Lawyer in Moose Jaw Saskatchewan - Our Environmental Law team represents and advises clients in both the public and private sectors whose activities are subject to environmental regulation. Our group combines highly specialized environmental knowledge together with a broad range of legal disciplines. Our specialized environmental law practitioners work directly with professionals in litigation, corporate/commercial law and municipal law.

We provide project management and strategic environmental recommendation, since we know that our clients have to balance solid business decisions with sound environmental practices. We act as counsel to proponents of major infrastructure projects through environmental assessments.

Our company provides legal advice and offers regulatory intervention training which goes beyond what various companies are given by nearly all firms. Through field rehearsals and seminars, we prepare clients for likely regulatory intervention so as to help avoid enforcement proceedings.

We give environmental counsel on corporate transactions of various complexity and size involving the purchase or sale of shares and assets, as well as associated financings.

Our brownfields redevelopment services consist of advising on tax incremental financing; initiating and processing all needed approvals and applications; engaging and overseeing consultants to be able to prepare remedial action plans; Site Specific Risk Assessments and/or Records of Site Condition; and liaising together with municipal officials and Ministry of Environment.

Our lawyers give creative and practical solutions for handling regulatory investigations and inspections. We assist clients to prepare for potential future investigations. Our experienced litigators represent clients charged under municipal, provincial and federal environmental and related legislation.
