

Income Tax Lawyers in Moose Jaw Saskatchewan

Income Tax Lawyers in Moose Jaw Saskatchewan - Throughout the country, our knowledgeable professionals offer services in issues about personal tax and estate planning, corporate tax, tax litigation, and commodity tax fields. We offer our clients advice and assistance for both domestic and international transactions.

A lot of our members have experience serving government tax departments and private industry and normally make submissions to the government about tax laws. They are also existing members of numerous professional organizations like for example the Tax Foundations and the International Fiscal Association. Additionally, members of our company often give several educational lectures concerning taxation problems.

Our clients include financial institutions, trust companies, pension and mutual funds, owner-operated businesses, accounting firms, foreign enterprises, charitable foundations, trusts and estates. To ensure that the advice our company provides our clients is both proactive and practical, we talk to various professionals in real estate, labour, corporate and commercial law.

To ensure that the needs of our various client's are met, our company has focused our energies in all the areas of tax laws.