

Divorce Lawyer Moose Jaw Saskatchewan

Divorce Lawyer Moose Jaw Saskatchewan - It is really easy to get overwhelmed when handling divorce or separation. The emotional burden and stress caused by handling the division of property and potential child/spousal support and access makes it a really traumatic event. As the choices made through this time can affect the rest of your life, it is wise to have an unbiased party present who can make certain you are provided as much data as possible about the consequences of your choices.

In order to resolve lots of family problems, there are ways to handle these comprising mediation, negotiation, collaborative family law and the Court process.

Our firm believes that whatever marital problems must be resolved outside the courtroom. This saves money and is probably the most effective way. A written, fair agreement can be reached by our skilled lawyers via negotiation.

If for any reason you cannot prevent going to court, we can help provide you with experienced and knowledgeable representation.

Throughout "Collaborative Family Law", each spouse hires a lawyer especially skilled in collaborative law. Each party and their lawyer agrees that they shall not go to court and sign a contract stating they will try and settle the issues through negotiation. Nearly all of the work is spent with both parties and their lawyers present and negotiating between themselves.

Depending on the needs of the family, Clinical Counselors or Registered Psychologists can be included in the procedures. Should the situation need it, we even encourage utilizing a child specialist to help arrange a parenting plan along with helping with whichever issues regarding the mental well being of the children.

Collaborative family law, when going through divorce, which allows the parties to come to their own resolutions. We provide professionals to be able to help ensure that the separation goes as smooth as possible, as well as so as to help handle the extreme emotional feelings experienced during the process.